Mayor Jacobs: Knox County Splash Pads to Open Saturday

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.— The Knox County Parks and Recreation Department will open at least two of its three splash pads Saturday, May 13, including the ones at Powell Station Park and New Harvest Park.

Earlier this year, crews began replacing the 15-year-old splash pad at Carl Cowan Park. That one should be up and running by early next week.

“As the weather heats up, take comfort knowing you can stay cool every day at these park attractions,” Knox County Mayor Glenn Jacobs said. “Just be sure to read the rules and be safe.”

The 2023 splash pad season runs through Sunday, Sept. 10. The free automated water playgrounds are open to the public from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. every day, weather permitting.

They are located at:

- Carl Cowan Park, 10058 S. Northshore Drive
- Powell Station Park, 2318 W. Emory Road
- New Harvest Park, 4775 New Harvest Lane
